SEW IN COMFORT. SEW LONGER.™

WHY OWN A SEWING CABINET?

Sewing and quilting can provide hours of joy and creativity. When you love what you do, you deserve to sew in comfort so you can sew longer. But without the right workspace, you may find yourself in a lot of unnecessary discomfort. Stop sewing at your kitchen table and commit to using a sewing cabinet to improve the quality of your work and minimize your aches and pains. You'll also get organized and maximize your quilting and sewing time so you can stay focused, creative and energized.

Top 5 Benefits Of Owning A Sewing Cabinet

- 1) Avoid a shaky surface and stay in control of your stitches. Unlike your kitchen table, sewing cabinets are designed to accommodate sewing machines. Meaning they're sturdy, durable and don't bounce when your machine is going full speed – avoiding skipped stitches and broken needles.
- 2) Eliminate back aches when you sew or quilt because sewing furniture is designed to be the correct height to work at with your machine.
- 3) Cabinets often have a quilt leaf option so you can keep your fabric level as you sew. Avoiding the drape and drag of fabric over the edge of your table lets you stitch with ease and accuracy.
- 4) Get organized and spend less time searching for misplaced notions and hauling your machine around when you have a dedicated workspace so you can enjoy more time sewing.
- 5) Say good-bye to wrist fatigue and soreness by easily switching from free arm to flat bed sewing. Working on a garment? Use the free arm option. Working on a quilt? Keep the arm of your machine flush with the sewing table surface so your fabric doesn't drag.

What People Say About Kangaroo Sewing Furniture

"When sewing machines are nestled into a sewing cabinet, it is always ready and waiting to be turned on. No more clearing a space, dragging out the sewing machine, and searching for an outlet before you even get to turn it on. If it always stays plugged in and ready for use, those extra 5 or 10 minutes can be used for something useful. A couple seams here or there on a quilt will add up a lot quicker than if the sewing machine is stored in the closet."

Get Organized With Extra Storage Space

Your sewing time is precious, and one of the most important things you can do to maximize your time is organize your sewing room. Kangaroo Sewing Furniture offers smart storage solutions that not only organize your supplies but also enhance your decor.

For maximum storage, choose the Dingo II. Featuring nine drawers to store your sewing supplies, fabric, and more. One drawer is even large enough to fit a standard size serger! Plus there are locking doors which conceal your drawers and keep your sharp items safe from small children. Best of all, this cabinet is more than a storage unit – it's also the ideal height to use as a cutting table. And the quilt leaf at the back of the cabinet is ideal for extra surface area when working on cutting larger products so your fabrics don't drop and pull over the side of the cabinet. The locking casters enable you to easily move the cabinet as needed or keep it in place when you don't want it to move.

The Most Important Addition For Any Sewing Cabinet

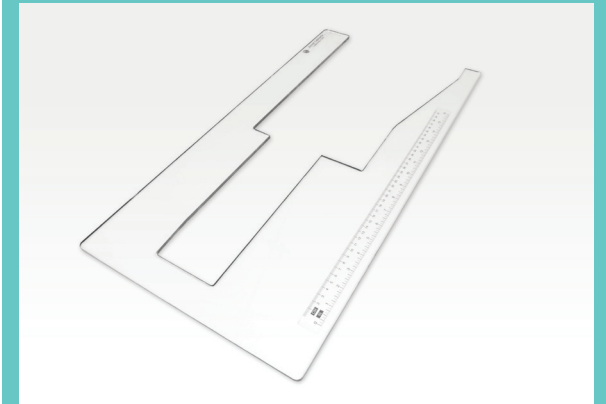

Complete your cabinet with a custom-made insert. Made of heavy duty acrylic, inserts are designed to fit the make and model of your machine and cabinet eliminating the excess space that normally exists between your machine and cabinet. Eliminating this space enables you to sew more comfortably and efficiently by providing an ergonomic work surface. Treat yourself to a custom-made insert and you'll enjoy stitching straighter, faster, and with less wrist fatigue.

Choosing The Right Cabinet For You - The Top 7 Questions To Ask Yourself Before You Make A Purchase

- 1) How much space in your sewing room do you have to dedicate to a sewing cabinet?
Sewing cabinets come in all shapes and sizes, and there is sure to be one that fits your needs.
- 2) What size is your machine? Cabinets offer assorted size openings, lift types, and weight capacities to accommodate different machines.
- 3) Do you need a cabinet that accommodates more than one machine, such as a serger?
- 4) Does the cabinet have a lift mechanism so you can switch from free arm to flat bed sewing and a third storage position?
- 5) Do you want a cabinet that completely closes up (and even locks) when not in use to conserve space, or will you leave it open all the time?
- 6) How much storage would you like? Do you plan to store your thread, sewing tools, and fabric in your cabinet?
- 7) Do you often make larger projects like quilts? A quilt leaf extension would provide a larger work surface and reduce the amount your quilt hangs over the edge and pulls as you sew.

Our Quality Is By Design

Since 1943, Arrow Companies, LLC has been a company built on integrity, quality, and trust, making our furniture the best-selling brand of sewing cabinet in the United States. In 2008 Arrow partnered with Horn of Australia to produce the Kangaroo Cabinet line and over a century of combined cabinet manufacturing expertise. All products are produced using state of the art machines for cutting, drilling, and finishing, ensuring you have long-lasting, high-quality furniture at an affordable price. Each cabinet is scratch and water resistant and features smooth edges to eliminate fabric snags. Every drawer accommodates up to 25 pounds and features durable steel glides for smooth opening and closing. Best of all is the Kangaroo lifetime warranty so you can purchase your cabinets with confidence knowing Arrow stands behind their products and you.
